Important Note:

Please be advised in most onshore jurisdictions the profits earned by an offshore company would be deemed taxable if that company was being managed from the onshore jurisdiction.

If the directors of the offshore company are resident in an onshore jurisdiction or if a bank account is being operated over the internet from the onshore jurisdiction it could be deemed to indicate management of the offshore company is taking place from the onshore jurisdiction.

Clients should be wary of the need to disclose such arrangements and are encouraged to take local advice within their jurisdiction of residence. ACS offers offshore resident nominee directors and bank account signatories and would be pleased to work with your advisors to determine whether these services are appropriate for your jurisdiction of residence.
